

ON THE SCENE

with HANK WOLLMAN

If by chance to get to Hawaii in the next couple of hours, you're going to feel very much at home. In fact, you're bound to run into many familiar faces.

It all stems from the happy "Aloha Tour" sponsored by the Polynesian restaurant... that south sea spot on P.O. Only half of the group that went over to the islands two weeks ago came back... so far.

As the returning plane passed over Diamond Head, bringing back Pete Reitz, Harry Baty and the other Polynesian regulars, the remaining vacationers were seen waving "aloha" as they rode the surf into Waikiki Beach.

For those who couldn't make the trip this year, there's a wonderful collection of souvenirs and gift brought back by Pearl Reitz, which include colorful new island costumes, beautiful driftwood carvings, sandals and beachwear.

Best of all though, are the stories of the parties and feasts that were brought back by everyone... plus the news that next year there may be a trip to Tahiti!

Glamour indeed will be seen in the Southland in two weeks, for at Lococo's in Manhattan Beach the original Zeigfeld Follies girls will hold their yearly meeting in conjunction with the New York chapter.

Such celebrities as Billie Burke and others of the most colorful girls of "showbiz" will be on hand to relive many pleasant memories. Lucky host Nick!

If you've never heard of a kosher pizza, don't blame this column. Such delicacies do exist for it was Dante's Italian restaurant in Gardena that catered to 125 people at the local Jewish synagogue.

Ah, America. Now it's official... the popular Bus Party to Agua Caliente and Old Mexico that is a popular customer special at Del's Camino Room will take place Sunday, November 16.

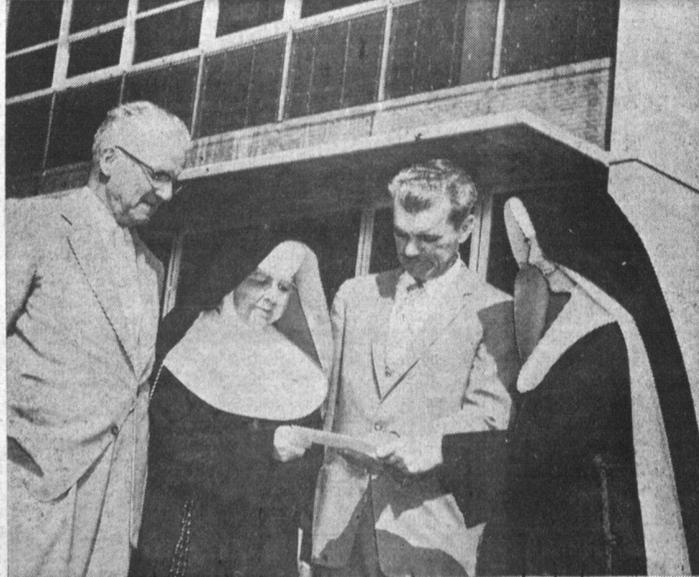

For those who haven't been exposed to the fun of a trip south in a "furnished" bus among happy sportsmen, then an early reservation is recommended.

Contact Gordon, Mary Ann or any of the regulars of this Crenshaw boulevard restaurant.

Next week a new feature will be introduced to this page for the benefit of all you entertainment seekers. Each week a new show, or act, or entertainer will be spotlighted to help you decide the place to go and the things to do.

NAMES IN THE NIGHT:

Mrs. Ken Jones, who celebrated her birthday in gala style at the Plush Horse last week; the Art Graham Duo, who opened with happy results at Lococo's in Manhattan Beach; Rita Smith, ex-society editor of the Gardena Tribune, who enjoyed the Halloween party at Del's Friday last; the new F 'Way House on the Pacific Coast highway, where the showmanship and piano styling of Sylvester Scott stand out; Arne Lund, bossman of the Alondra Inn, who sported a fancy skimmer for Halloween; Tai Song, that terrific Cantonese restaurant in Manhattan Beach (on Sepulveda), where the special new Combination Plate is a rousing favorite with late night snackers.

HOSPITAL CONTRIBUTION—Check for $350 was presented to the Little Company of Mary this week by North American Aviation, whose employes had previously made a $10,000 contribution to the hospital through their

Foreign Students To be Honored By Red Cross

Two foreign exchange students attending high schools in Torrance will be among 44 honored by Junior Red Cross on Nov. 11 as the youth organization observes its first annual International High School Student Day.

The two from this community who will attend are Dieter Seller of Germany who resides at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Don B. Wolf, 2104 Halldale Ave. and attends Torrance High School, as well as Ped Svanevik of Norway, a North High School student, with the family of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin B. Grogan, 24249 Madison St.

The teenagers from overseas are enrolled in high schools for one year as part of an international program of the American Field Service, a voluntary group with the purpose of furthering understanding and good will among the peoples of the world.

"Junior Red Cross has planned a day that has social as well as educational objectives," said Mrs. Grace M. Dreier, Los Angeles Junior Red Cross chairman.

A day-long program of activities will begin with a morning tour of the Los Angeles Police Department, followed by a luncheon at the University of Southern California, where the students also will attend a panel discussion on "Education is a Two-Way Street" after a tour of the campus.

The day will be climaxed with a banquet at the Los Angeles Red Cross Chapter, 1200 S. Vermont Ave., followed by another panel discussion with the subject "Junior Red Cross in Your Country and Mine."

Store Manager Fetes 27 Years With Shoe Firm

Roy Shields, manager of Kirby's Shoe Store, 1276 Sartorie Ave., is a real career man in the shoe business.

He has managed stores all over the country, and says he enjoys his work tremendously.

Other members of his family seem to agree with him, for both his wife, Elena, and son, Ward, assist him at the Torrance store.

Shields resides at 5320 Calle Mayor.

New Rule on Savings Bonds Announced Here

Chairman George W. Post today told of new liberalized Government provisions affecting opportunities for investment in United States E and H Savings Bonds.

He said: "Any person or organization, except commercial savings banks, may now buy up to $10,000 in Series E and H Bonds. "This is very good news for churches, foundations, service clubs, charities and private companies desiring security, without hazards of market fluctuations.

Pacific Telephone to Show What Makes Phones Work

The circus hasn't hit Torrance yet—but the closest thing to it will get underway Thursday and Friday, at Pacific Telephone's 1307 Cravens Ave.

Hours of the even are from 1 to 9 p.m. on both days, the manager said. Earlier in the day school children will visit the center for a look at the telephone system.

Side show attractions can be viewed in the parking area adjoining the communications center, the manager said. "Spike shod" linemen will vie for the spotlight by dramatically climbing a telephone pole. Cable splicers will work with molten lead while splicing wires and sun-tanned installers will display latest telephone equipment.

Inside the telephone center, scores of veteran employees will conduct guided tours, pointing out to friends and neighbors the intricacies of the telephone system that serves them.

250 Players to Enter Tourney

With a record purse of $5000, the Fifth Annual Western Avenue-Gardena Valley Open Golf Tournament will attract an entry list of more than 250 players, it was predicted today by Earl Martin, Western Avenue "pro".

The tourney will open with a pro-amateur on Wednesday Nov. 12, followed by tourney play on Nov. 13, 14, 15, and 16.

Allegro Builders Open Office Here

Due to the tremendous acceptance and the steady growth in the Torrance area, the builders of Harmony Homes, an on-your-lot organization, welcome the new convenient location of Allegro Builders, Inc.

Their office opened officially Thursday, at the corner of Arlington and 233rd St.

Plywood Builders, Inc., located in Lawndale has been serving the Torrance area for the past three years. Allegro Builders, now the new local Harmony Home Builder, is prepared to give the same quality homes delivered in the past.

An example of the perfect rental unit is the Harmony investor model 2 bedroom home having 800 square feet, at the same low price of $3995. Harmony Homes have homes available with two, three and four bedrooms.

Red Shook, general manager of the new office has been with Harmony Homes in Ontario for 2 years.
